

Primary Sponsors

Carnegie Mellon Office of the Vice Provost for Education

Claude Worthington
Benedum Foundation

East End Food Cooperative

Fay-Penn Economic Development Council

Paragon Monteverde

Pittsburgh Partnership for Neighborhood Development

The Green Bough Holistic
Learning Center

Associate Sponsors

Carnegie Mellon Heinz
School of Public Policy and Management

Green Block Farm

Grow Pittsburgh

Penn State Cooperative Extension

Pennsylvania Association for Sustainable Agriculture

Urban Ecology Collaborative

Urban Farming Initiative

Event Organizers

Larry Patrick
Adjunct Faculty,
Carnegie Mellon

Renee Roy
Adjunct Faculty,
Carnegie Mellon

Fernando Cardoza
The Green Bough Holistic
Learning Center

Michael Krajovic
Fay-Penn Economic Development Council

Mary Beth Steisslinger
Urban Ecology Collaborative

Public Workshop

Food and Farming-Based Economies: The Next Generation of Business in Pittsburgh

Wednesday, April 30, 2008

1:00-5:30 PM

Singleton Room - Roberts Hall
Carnegie Mellon

Keynote Speakers:

Ben Gisin
Publisher, Touch the Soil Magazine

Judy Wicks
Founder, White Dog Cafe

Tickets:

Businesses-$50

Non-Profits/Non Carnegie Mellon members-$30

Carnegie Mellon members- Free

This workshop will convene the region's academic, business and non-profit community in a discussion on locally-based food systems and their potential to catalyze neighborhood revitalization in Southwestern Pennsylvania.